20 to 30 Million Children Starving, Says Hoover Aide

CAIRO (AP)—Maurice Pate, adviser to Herbert Hoover, said today that between 20,000,000 and 30,000,000 children in Europe urgently need food—"the most poignant human problem in Europe today."

He estimated $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 are needed for an adequate supplementary feeding program in Europe and recommended that it consist of at least one meal daily of 600 calories.

Mr. Pate surveyed current child health and food conditions in Poland, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Britain, The Netherlands, Belgium, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia and Greece.

"The worst conditions were found in Poland, which has the greatest needs," he said in a report submitted to Mr. Hoover, honorary chairman of the United States Famine Emergency Committee.

He told a press conference that the situation in Germany is practically the same as in Poland, but added: "The Germans are better organized and are making the best of what they get."

"From data gathered in various countries which we have surveyed, I estimate that as a result of war, mass killings, vast enforced migrations and famine there are today no less than 11,000,000 orphans and half-orphans in Europe."

He said England was doing a "magnificent" child-feeding job and that Finland was struggling to provide a "modest soup" for children.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prices Board spokesmen said today there was little likelihood of any government action to reduce the size of loaves of bread as a result of restrictions on deliveries of wheat flour to bakeries.

Body of Mussolini Stolen From Cemetery In Milan

MILAN (AP)—Municipal authorities reported today that the body of Benito Mussolini had been removed during the night from Maggione Cemetery here by "unknown" persons.

An inquiry to ascertain the responsibility was under way. The discovery was made by workers who were in the cemetery to exume other bodies.

The body of Mussolini was buried in a pauper's grave in the cemetery soon after he had been executed by partisans near the Swiss border in April, 1945.

The bodies of Claretta Petacci, his mistress, and five henchmen who were executed at the same time were buried near his grave. Mussolini was captured on the shore of Lake Como while attempting to escape into Switzerland. After a summary trial, he and the others were shot.

The bodies were brought to Milan and hung up for exhibition in the public square. Thousands flocked to see the corpse of the man who had led Italy into war, and one woman fired several shots into his body, crying that each bullet represented her vengeance for her sons lost in the war.

The grave was left unmarked. Two Associated Press photographers and a correspondent went to the cemetery Monday to get pictures of Mussolini's grave and found everything in order.

A cemetery watchman pointed to what he supposed was Mussolini's grave, saying that the body of Achille Starace, former secretary of the Fascist Party, was near by.

But only three or four persons

U.S. Crop May Be Largest in History

WASHINGTON (AP)—N. E. Dodd, Undersecretary of Agriculture, said today there is a "good chance" that this year's wheat and corn crops will be the largest in United States history.

He based this optimistic prediction on reports he has received in recent weeks from all parts of the country.

Mr. Dodd, himself a farmer, told an interviewer he felt confident farmers will plant nearly 300,000,000 acres of food, livestock feed and fibre crops—nearly 4,000,000 more than planted last year.

2,500 Convicts At Milan Hold Guards Hostage

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Besieged and rioting convicts in the San Vittore prison threatened today to hang all the 25 hostages they have held since Sunday unless their demands for liberty are met by tomorrow.

A thousand policemen, firing at windows and walls, surrounded the prison and met sporadic fire from the 2,500 prisoners.

The captives cried out over a loud speaker system:

"We may all be killed, but first you will see the bodies of the hostages hanging from the highest windows of the prison."

A police commissioner, carabinieri and auxiliaries were seized when the revolt erupted.

3 KILLED, 30 WOUNDED

One jailer and two prisoners were reported killed by gunfire during the night, and approximately 30 persons wounded.

During a brief truce, a number of nuns and 150 women prisoners were removed from the jail, which was described as "more of a battlefield than a prison."

Police said no prisoners had succeeded in escaping. Searchlights and machine guns have been mounted at strategic places outside the walls, to meet any break.

The prisoners, many held on political charges, were reported to have seized enough ammunition and food to hold out for several days. The Milan radio said the rioting started when officials refused demands "for the release of certain prisoners."

50% Boost For Winnipeg Aldermen

WINNIPEG (CP)—It was a long meeting—five hours—but it paid off.

The city council early today adopted a salary by-law boosting the pay of Mayor Garnet Coulter from $5,000 to $8,000 a year and the aldermen's salaries were jumped from $1,200 to $1,800 annually.

Ald. H. B. Scott refused to support higher salaries for either the mayor or aldermen. "The men who built Winnipeg wanted nothing but honor for their services," he said.

The reasons for the increase: Higher cost of living and the increased load of work placed on the aldermen.

Burial of Unknown Soldier

Hon. Maj. J. W. Foote, V.C., and Hon. Lt.-Col. W. J. Gilling of Toronto, Principal Protestant Chaplain, Canadian Military Headquarters, officiate at the burial of the remains of an unknown Canadian soldier in the Canadian cemetery at Bretteville-sur-Laize in Normandy. The ashes had been returned to Canada before the Dominion government announced its decision that the dead should remain buried where they had fallen on the field of valor, and Maj. Foote, only chaplain of the late war to win the Victoria Cross, felt the task of returning the soldier's remains to the scene of his supreme sacrifice.

Filipino Presidential Candidate Hides As Votes Cast; Kidnap Threat

MANILA (AP)—A rumor that he might be kidnapped sent presidential candidate Manuel Roxas scurrying into hiding today as nearly 3,000,000 Filipinos quietly elected leaders to guide them in the first years of their independence.

The grounds of Roxas' residence were ominous with machine guns and a detachment of the Philippine army, but the city was unusually quiet. His secretary, Alfredo Jacinto, explained that Roxas was in hiding because he heard "three men from the province of Bulacan" planned to kidnap him.

Roxas, president of the territorial Senate, earlier had conceded that President Sergio Osmena would win four provinces, but claimed eventual victory would be his by a margin of 300,000 votes.

Some sources estimated it would require several days to report results from distant islands of the sprawling archipelago. Air courier service and radio communications probably can finish the task before Saturday, military police headquarters predicted.

Roxas campaigned actively under a Liberal banner.

Osmena, who made no formal campaign, said nothing. Head of the conservative wing of the Nacionalista Party—from which Roxas bolted—Osmena earlier had expressed confidence that his record of 40 years' public service would re-elect him.

The winner will be in office when the islands achieve complete independence from the United States, July 4.

4,800 Chickens Burn In Langford Fire

LANGFORD—A total of 4,800 chickens were destroyed when fire of unknown origin completely gutted the chicken house owned by P. M. Lockwood on the Island Highway, Langford, Easter Sunday morning.

The Langford Volunteer Fire Brigade was called out at 2 in the morning and prevented the fire from spreading to two adjoining poultry houses.

3 Men Sent Up for Trial In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Three men were committed for trial on espionage charges here today, and a further adjournment for judgment was announced in the fourth case of the day.

Magistrate Glenn Strike first committed Sgt. Ldr. F. W. Poland, ex-R.C.A.F. intelligence officer, on one charge under the Official Secrets Act.

Poland did not call any witnesses or make any statement in his own behalf.

The magistrate said he would not be ready to deliver judgment in the case of Dr. David Shugar, former naval anti-submarine expert, until Thursday morning.

In the case of J. S. Benning, former Munitions Department official, defence counsel said attempts had been made to have a member of the Russian Embassy staff appear as a witness,

Hysterical Tone Of Reports Hit; No Price Raise

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Board said today in a statement the current shortage of beef supplies on major Canadian markets was a seasonal occurrence resulting "almost entirely" from feed shortages and indicated there was no intention to increase price ceilings to stimulate marketing of cattle.

Board officials said reports alleging the existence of a widespread black market and acute shortages which had been "almost hysterical" in tone during the last few days served only to "aggravate" the shortage situation. Actually, cattle prices were adjusting themselves to existing price ceilings.

The statement referred specifically to the situation in Toronto, where butcher counters were almost bare at the week-end and large packers lowered their bids on the livestock market because they claimed they could not continue to pay prevailing prices and still sell dressed meat at ceiling prices without loss.

"There was no indication that Toronto deliveries had been cut down any more seriously than deliveries to all other major markets in Canada," the statement added. "Reports from Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg all showed that only about 25 per cent of cattle deliveries were being received this week, as compared to similar periods during the past few months."

The seasonal reduction of beef supplies this season had occurred a month earlier than in 1945, the statement said, emphasizing there always was a period of shortage between the time the last of the grain-fed cattle came to market in the spring and before grass-fed cattle were fit to market, usually sometime in June.

However, the Canadian meat ration had proved to be "ample" and the distribution of available supplies had been sufficiently effective to prevent any major consumer shortages.

NEW LOW LEVEL

WINNIPEG (CP)—Cattle receipts at prairie stockyards dropped to a new low level today as the packer-producer deadlock over price scales continued.

There was no shortage, however, for retail buyers, and supplies sufficient for some time were available to butcher stores, with no signs of "panic buying." At the Union Stockyards in St. Boniface, supply centre of Greater Winnipeg packing plants, only 120 cattle arrived overnight compared with a normal run of around 1,800 for this time of the year.

Other prairie yards reported similar conditions with receipts at Edmonton totalling only 71 cattle.

Canada to Get 11,000 Young U.S. Sailor Tons of German Ships

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—Canada will get 11,000 gross tons of the German mercantile marine seized for reparations under a decision of the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency announced today.

The agency, making public allocations of the enemy shipping amongst 16 Allied countries which suffered losses during the war said Britain will get about 365,000 gross tons worth approximately $9,000,000 (about $40,050,000).

The shares were apportioned on the basis of the tonnage lost by each of the 15 Allied countries during the war. Canada's loss was placed at 336,000 tons, entitling her to 1.42 per cent of the shipping.

'Janet' in Baltimore

TORONTO (CP)—"Janet," Victoria's blue baby, was in Toronto Monday, en route to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for a life or death operation, which it is hoped will cure the frail, five-year-old girl of her rare ailment. Because of a desire to avoid publicity, the name of the family has been kept secret and the girl has been called "Janet." They left later in the day and were due in Baltimore at 11:45 today.

FOUND MATES ASLEEP

The navy report says that about 3 a.m., shortly after coming off watch, he entered the sleeping compartment of the LST. Where 30 shipmates were asleep. Switching on the lights and without a word, he opened fire. Seven seamen were killed outright and two others died later of their wounds.

Smith pumped 20 bullets into the close quarters from a carbine and a pistol. When his ammunition was exhausted, he leaped upon his victims with a knife.

Stalenecker, who escaped the bullets, and the mortally wounded sailor leaped from their bunks. Despite his wounds, the unnamed sailor reached Smith first. But before he could disarm Smith—the crazed young sailor plunged the knife into his own body. Stalenecker then knocked Smith down with the metal bench.

Smith and the three wounded were flown to the Repose in a navy PBY after receiving emergency treatment on board the LST. Two of the wounded later died.

Enough Meat for Week, After That Wholesalers In Doubt

Battle of the meat packers and cattle raisers continues across Canada, with the consumer left in no-man's land, in so far as his next week's meat supplies are concerned, according to reports from local packers and retailers.

"We have no more cars in sight," the manager of one packing house in Victoria said today. "We could hold out for a week, but if people panic when they read of a shortage, we don't know how long the supplies will hold out."

"It's a fight between the rancher and the packer; the packer has been taking it on the chin too long."

WANT LIVE BEEF CEILING

He said the government had put a ceiling on all meats sold dressed, but no ceiling on what the rancher could ask for his beef "live." Packers are not advocating that the consumer be asked to pay higher prices for dressed meat, but that the government set a price on "live beef," which will give the rancher a good margin of profit, and also allow the packer to sell at a profit, he added. Under the present price set-up, the packers could make no profit, he said.

"Another Victoria meat wholesaler said his company had a car of meat coming in at the end of the week, and more due on Monday."

"We have no particular information that would lead us to believe there will be a shortage," he said. "There are cattle in the yards, and they are being killed. Our supplies are coming in, and our people have not told us to withhold any orders."

DOUBTS SHORTAGE

From his information he said the shortage might be possible, but not probable. There was no excitement over the situation when he telephoned Calgary, he said, with the office there telling him his car of meat would come in the end of the week.

In the opinion of one wholesaler, supplies of lamb and veal would be short until arrival of prairie spring lambs and calves in June, with comparatively little veal and lamb produced locally. Pork was short, because of the amount being shipped to Europe, he said, adding that only beef remained.

J. D. Cornett, chairman of the Meat Merchants' Division of the Retail Merchants' Association, announced Monday in Vancouver, that cattlemen in Alberta, Manitoba and British Columbia were expected to follow Ontario's lead and withhold the delivery of shipments of cattle pending the removal of price ceilings on beef, or a satisfactory adjustment.

"Present beef prices are as high as the public can afford," Mr. Cornett said, adding that meat dealers on the mainland were opposed to lifting the ceiling on dressed meat but wanted to see ceiling on livestock prices established.

PRETTY GRIM

In Victoria today Reginald Williams, president of the Vancouver Island Meat Retailers' Association expressed opposition to an increase or complete lifting of retail meat selling prices. He felt the city would be "pretty short" of meat next week, although there was plenty this week. "Things look pretty grim," he said.

According to reports from eastern Canada, returns to the farmers dropped when eastern packers announced they would cut the price paid for live cattle, upon which no ceiling applies, to the point where they could sell price-controlled meat profitably and keep within the ceiling.

Rather than sell at the new prices, farmers stayed away from the market and some producers and packers in the east suggested a general increase in the dressed meat ceiling. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board turned aside the suggestion.

Thought Maidanek Just a Workshop, Says Frank Witness

NUERNBERG (AP)—A defence witness told the International Military Tribunal here today that Hans Frank, former Nazi Governor-General of German-occupied Poland, believed the notorious Maidanek concentration camp was merely a workshop where furs were altered for the use of German troops on the Russian front.

Josef Buehler, Frank's former secretary of state, said the S.S. deluded Frank relative to the true facts about Maidanek, where it has been estimated a million Poles and others perished. Buehler testified that both he and Frank were "much surprised" to learn from press reports in 1944 that Maidanek actually was a concentration camp.

He said Frank had opposed establishing any concentration camps in his government-general. The witness credited Frank with obtaining the release of numbers of Krakow professors who were seized and carried off to Germany by the S.S., as well as many of 50,000 to 60,000 Poles who are said to have been marched off to concentration camps after the destruction of Warsaw.

Counsel for Wilhelm Frick, Nazi "Protector" of Bohemia and Moravia and former Interior Minister, whose case is next to come before the Tribunal, disclosed Frick will not take the stand in his own defence.

Japanese Parties Seeking Coalition

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Shidehara today accepted the leadership of the Progressive Party, then promptly shifted responsibility to the opposition for initiating steps toward a coalition cabinet to succeed his resigned government.

As a result, leaders of the Social Democrat and Liberal parties met tonight to plan a two-party program to present to Shidehara tomorrow.

The demand of the Liberal Party, headed by Ichiro Hatoyama, for the premiership, and the Socialists' contention that any new government should be based on the Social Democrat philosophy, highlighted the day's conferences.

WHO HAS ALL THE MONEY HE WANTS?

Joe Green is a steady worker with a steady job. He has always met his bills. But now, because of sickness, he suddenly finds he is short of ready cash... tomorrow he will go to his bank and arrange a Personal Loan.

You may find yourself in the same position as Joe Green. Anybody may! Personal loans through your bank make it possible for you to anticipate future earnings. This is an essential part of its services.

Such loans may be obtained to meet financial needs of many kinds: to lay in ahead a winter's supply of coal, to pay municipal or other taxes in time to earn the discount, to provide for home repairs, to send a boy or girl to college, to consolidate debts—indeed for any sound reason.

Bank credit runs through all personal life and commercial life. It operates silently and unobtrusively. You take it for granted. That is the way Canadian banking works.

Ontario Farm Body Wants Inquiry Into Effects of Price Board Rules

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates at the Ontario Federation of Agriculture conference adopted, Monday, a resolution asking for appointment within 15 days, by the federal government, of a parliamentary committee to make immediate inquiry into the relationship of agriculture, industry and labor, as affected by Prices Board controls.

In a prepared statement the O.F.A. said "It was the consensus of opinion among the farmers present at the conference that agriculture is about to suffer a 'dangerous squeeze' which would result in a serious decrease in production and heavy losses to individual farmers. Failing appointment of a parliamentary committee, the federation will yield to numerous requests for protest meetings preparatory to a march on Ottawa."

The statement added: "Few realize that the threatening food shortage is the inevitable result of a policy of cheap food on the part of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board."

BEEF PRICES
In emergency session at London, Ont., the Ontario Beef Cattle Producers' Association urged immediate removal of the retail ceiling prices on beef. It advised farmers to withhold shipments to livestock markets until either the ceilings are lifted or some satisfactory price adjustment is made.

Only about 25 per cent of the normal Monday quota of cattle was received at the Toronto livestock yards yesterday as farmers started withholding shipments. It now is a week since the large packing houses lowered their bids, contending it was impossible to pay the prevailing prices and still make a profit on sale of the dressed meat at the wholesale ceiling price. Receipts at the Winnipeg yards Monday were 1,000 head below normal.

Denies Laski's Story Of Super Atom Bomb

LONDON (Reuter)—Group Capt. Geoffrey Cheshire, V.C., bomber pilot ace and an observer of the atomic bomb raid on Nagasaki, today denounced as "blatantly untrue" a statement by Prof. Harold Laski, chairman of the British Labor Party, that the United States had developed an atomic bomb which could obliterate the states of Indiana and Illinois.

Edward A. Lyman Dies

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Edward A. Lyman, 69, editor of the New York Times "letters to the editor" department and a veteran of more than 50 years' newspaper work died Monday.

Chief Justice Stone Dies; But 7 Judges In U.S. Court Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone's sudden death cut the U.S. Supreme Court to a seven-man tribunal today and stirred wide speculation on President Truman's possible choice for the republic's highest judicial position.

The hard-working, 73-year-old Chief Justice Stone fired two dissenting opinions at his colleagues in a prolonged court session Monday, then faltered over the first of three majority opinions he had prepared. He paled and his first words trailed off.

The court session was halted abruptly. Doctors said he had indigestion. He was taken home. A few hours later his secretary announced his death from "a massive cerebral hemorrhage."

Mr. Truman, who learned of the Chief Justice's death aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, termed it "a grievous loss to the country" and said he was "terribly shocked." The President had left Washington Sunday to observe naval maneuvers off the Virginia coast.

The first wave of speculation touched off by Chief Justice Stone's death centered on the possibility that Mr. Truman might elevate one of the seven Democrats now on the bench to Chief Justice.

Associate Justices William O. Douglas, Robert H. Jackson and Felix Frankfurter were mentioned most prominently and in that order. Other Democrats on the bench are Hugh Black, who now is first in seniority; Stanley F. Reed, Frank Murphy and Wiley Rutledge.

At the bedside when Chief Justice Stone died were Mrs. Stone and their two sons, Marshall of Cambridge, Mass., and Lauson Stone of New York City.

The late President Roosevelt, a Democrat appointed Justice Stone, a Republican, chief justice after the jurist had become widely known in judicial circles as a "Liberal." He had been an associate justice for 16 years.

Lionel Atwill Dies From Pneumonia

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lionel Atwill, 61, veteran British stage and screen actor, died at his near-by Pacific Palisades home Monday night from a pneumonia attack.

Mr. Atwill, born in Croydon, near London, was educated at Mercer's School in London and started his stage career there in 1904. After a long career in the legitimate theatre he came to Hollywood and entered motion pictures in 1932.

His better-known stage roles were in "The Walls of Jericho," "The Little Minister" and "Hedda Gabler."

His motion pictures included "The Silent Witness," "Mystery of the Wax Museum," "Song of Songs," "Nana," "Firebird," "Captain Blood," "Son of Frankenstein," "The Three Musketeers," "Hound of the Baskervilles," "Secret of Dr. Kildare," "Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon" and many others.

Mr. Atwill married his fourth wife, Paula Pruter, in Las Vegas, Nev., about two years ago. They were parents of a six-month-old son, Lionel Anthony Atwill.

Mr. Atwill's oldest son, John Anthony, a pilot in the R.A.F., was killed in England in 1941 when he was 21 years old.

Among Mr. Atwill's former wives was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's divorced wife, the former Louise Cromwell Stokesburg, Washington society leader, whom Mr. Atwill married in Maryland in 1930 following her divorce from Gen. MacArthur.

Secretary-General's Task Marked By Complexities In U.N.'s First Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Trygve Lie today carries the burden of one of the world's most difficult jobs with all the rugged enthusiasm of his native Norway.

As Secretary-General of the infant United Nations, this 50-year-old labor lawyer is charged with the task of steering the vast organization through its early critical years. By nature not a smooth diplomat in the Old World sense, his affable manner, determined drive and forceful reasoning have nevertheless cleared the way to decisions.

Much of his work is unofficial and behind-the-scenes. He must keep the delegates abreast of the latest developments, consult with them on some matters of policy, advise them on ticklish situations, keep the huge secretariat operating efficiently, and in general serve as the clearing house and work-horse of the organization.

GETS ALONG WITH ALL

A tireless worker, associates say his foremost characteristic is an ability to get along with all kinds of people. This trait of loving to talk with people any time and place has been curbed sharply in the touchy position he now holds. No longer can he go and come as he pleases. Because of close association with the powerful Security Council and the magnitude of his own job, friends have pointed out to Mr. Lie that meetings with "fac-tions" might be interpreted in some quarters as affecting decisions of the world organization he serves.

This has served only to intensify his devotion to his family, which includes his wife, Hjordis, 46, and three daughters, Mette, 15; Guri, 20, and Sissel (Mrs. Jens Halvard Bratzi), 23.

Mr. Lie's associates say he never makes an important decision without talking it over with his wife. She stays entirely out of the limelight and in her own words spends "all my time taking care of my husband."

Mr. Lie gets $20,000 annually, plus another $20,000 in expenses, but associates declare he can't break even. He lives modestly, but the necessity of entertaining within the organization eats into the total.

Mr. Lie chain-smokes Turkish cigarettes. His principal hobbies are people, hunting, tennis and skiing. He speaks Norwegian, English and German, understands some French, enjoys good wine and likes to eat. His taste in food is strictly quality and not quantity.

CARPENTER'S SON

He was born in suburban Oslo (Gronli), the son of a carpenter, and became secretary-general of the Norwegian Labor Party after graduating from the University of Oslo and receiving a law degree.

From 1922 to 1935 he was general counsel to the Norwegian Trades Union Federation and became Minister of Justice in 1935. Four years afterward he took over as Minister of Supply and shipping.

When the invasion of Norway came, Mr. Lie fled to England with the government. As head of the Norwegian merchant marine, he made the decision to turn over to the Allies 3,500,000 tons of shipping and the services of 25,000 Norwegian sailors.

In 1940 Mr. Lie became Acting Foreign Minister of the government in exile and later was named to the permanent post. Throughout the war he kept in contact with the underground in his native land.

In politics a Social Democrat, Mr. Lie was a compromise candidate for Secretary-General after losing out to Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium in the contest for the presidency of the General Assembly.

Austria Becomes Testing Ground As Soviet Influence Moves West

By ROSS MUNRO

VIENNA (CP)—Austria is one of the strangest paradoxes in Europe—a country which the Allies consider they liberated, but which is occupied and controlled by forces of Britain, the United States, Russia and France.

It is a small country of 30,000 square miles and only 6,000,000 people, but astride the Danube valley and on the border between influences from east and west it has an importance far beyond its size or population.

Authorities on Central Europe say Austria is a country to watch. It is a testing ground where it probably will be determined how far Soviet economic influence will extend westward as the Russians build up their "security belt" from the Baltic to the Mediterranean.

FOUR COMMISSIONS

In Vienna there also is an important experiment in Allied co-operation as there is in Berlin, with the four powers operating together in the Allied Control Council, and each with its commission, and armies running four separate zones. It is in Austria where the British 8th Army came to rest as British occupation troops after the long march from the Nile Valley across North Africa and through Italy.

A basic guide in Austria's future is the Moscow declaration of 1943 in which Britain, the United States and Russia said this country would be re-established as a free and independent state.

The three powers declared they regarded Hitler's annexation of Austria in the 1938 Anschluss as null and void and said Austria again would take her place as a European country.

It is a year now since the Red Army liberated Vienna and Austria still labors under many difficulties.

Will Resume Negotiation For B.C.E.R. Agreement

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Street Railwaymen's Union and the B.C. Electric Railway Company will resume negotiations for a 1946 working agreement Wednesday.

The union business agent, George Morrison, said discussions have not yet reached a "conclusive stage," but that some indication of union demands should be manifest this week. It is understood the railwaymen are seeking a 40-hour week and 15-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Film Drama Hides Robber's Gunfire

MONTREAL (CP)—While several hundred patrons inside watched a western film billed as "A Daring Drama," three armed men Monday night ran down the steps of the Strand Theatre on St. Catherine Street West, jumped into a taxicab and escaped with $600 of the day's receipts.

Followed by the echo of screams in the upstairs lobby, the bandits commandeered a passing cab and ordered the driver at gunpoint to drive away quickly.

The robbery was discovered when a departing patron noticed the armed men gathering up a quantity of cash. He attempted to close the door on the men, but one of the bandits fired two shots into the door, near the knob.

The gunfire from the heavy calibre revolver was probably missed by the spectators in the darkened interior, absorbed in the breathtaking experiences of Roy Rogers in "Along the Navajo Trail."

Customs Will Hold Gems, Art Treasures

VANCOUVER (CP)—Customs officials are faced with the problem of disposal of more than a half million dollars in Oriental gems and art treasures, the property of French Millionaire Henri Bar, who disappeared from a small passenger freighter which docked here Monday.

Mr. Bar, head of the Franco Chinese Bank at Shanghai, failed to return from a walk on deck when the vessel was six days at sea. A thorough search failed to reveal any trace of the man.

Charles Claudon, French consul

here and close friend of the missing millionaire, said Bar was a widower whose only son was killed during the war. There are no known heirs.

"Mr. Bar's antique and art collection is considered one of the finest in the world," he said. Mr. Claudon added that since the missing man is only "presumed dead" the treasure will have to be kept under bond for some time.

INFLATION IS REAL

FOUR YEARS AGO LAST FALL CANada established her Wartime Prices and Trade Board. To a gathering of publishers and working newspapermen in Ottawa, Mr.
Donald Gordon, the head of the new organization, explained exactly what his principal objectives were. It is not necessary to re-literate them at this late stage; briefly stated,
his machinery was designed to control the nation's wage and price structure—to prevent inflation and all its sinister economic variants. Mr. Gordon's task has been a difficult and onerous one; but he has so far succeeded in keeping these spectres at a respectable distance. Our friends in the United States never tire of pointing to the Board's manifest accomplishments with wishful envy. Well and good.

Ottawa as well as Washington, however,
is feeling the effects of pressure from special pleaders and selfish interests for the removal of all most controls. These elements appear to ignore the dangers attending upon submission to their importunities.
They argue that increased production of those goods at present in short supply is the best safeguard against the vicious inflationary spiral. And they are quite correct in their premises. But they do not explain to a somewhat perplexed public what would happen to the price structure in the weeks
that would elapse between the removal of controls and the acceleration of production
to the point from which it would have its beneficial effect on the law of supply and demand. In that short time the damage
would be done; many commodities would immediately soar in price to the consumer because there would be nothing to check the flow of a spending power which is out of all proportion to existing inventories to satisfy it. The corner store could conceivably become an auction room—with the highest bidder getting the goods.

In other words, the "little people" suffer
first and most as soon as run-away prices become the order of the day. And those who argue that such a temporary condition
would be less harmful and onerous than the prevailing controls are talking sheer and dangerous nonsense. As Mr. R. W. Mayhew,
M.P., remarked before he left for Ottawa
yesterday:

"Inflation is the only battle which Canadians
are compelled to fight in their own interests for
the next few months, or even the next year or so.
For once the wage-price formula is shattered,
we shall be confronted with an economic dilemma,
such as that which plagued Canada soon after the First Great War."

That battle is far from won in Canada.
It is being lost in the United States. Our people who wish to prevent the tragic circumstances of a quarter of a century ago
from besetting their economy in the next year or so should back up the Wartime
Prices and Trade Board in its orderly and progressive adjustments of the wage and price structure. They should write to Mr.
Gordon and tell him they are behind his policies. He needs all the strength his hands can acquire.

TRIBUTE AND CHALLENGE

THE WORDS OF FIORELLO H. LA
Guardia, director-general of UNRRA, regarding Canada's readiness to help feed the starving, will have been received with considerable satisfaction throughout the Dominion. They demonstrate a recognition beyond our borders of the policy the people of this nation wish to see followed in a continuing campaign not only to bring succor to those facing famine, but to raise standards everywhere in the interests of peace and security.
More flowery speeches might have been made than the former New York Mayor's brief tribute. But coming from a man who,
as chairman of the Canada-United States
Joint Permanent Defence Board before he took over his new duties, knows the Dominion well, the remarks will be doubly appreciated. His statement said:

"I want to express appreciation for the efforts
and co-operation of the Canadian government.
They always come through. I've been working with Canada since 1940 and I am happy to find
the same co-operation in the matter of food."

On purely ethical lines, the Dominion
can do no less than exert itself to the utmost to help the needy. It is one of the responsibilities which have come to this nation with its increase in stature. The condition is generally realized by Canadians and there is little inclination on their part to shirk the added burden. It will not, of course, eliminate the essentially human grumbling over shortages of some table luxuries; nor will
it allay protest at the reduction of output
arising from domestic disagreements over the flow of such commodities as meat to the consumer. Those are inconveniences which automatically draw criticism. But they are little more than inconveniences.

What should be borne in mind, however,
is the necessity of maintaining and increasing agricultural production to meet the challenge accepted by Canada of sending food
to those areas where life can be sustained
only through the maximum shipments from
this country.

PROBLEMS OF DEFENCE

ONE OF THE SUBJECTS TO WHICH
the Prime Ministers of the Dominion
will give consideration at their meeting in London is that of Empire defence in relation to the Pacific and the Mediterranean—as well as in relation to the peace treaties
which it is hoped will be drawn up by the conference of Foreign Ministers in Paris.
The problem of defence throughout the Commonwealth centres around the ability of any one nation, or group of nations, to meet aggression. None of the member states of the British family, of course, is disposed to disturb the peace.

Moreover, the defence of any one against aggression is provided for by the Charter of the United Nations of which each one is a member. It is taken for granted that to assume its share of responsibility within that organization each will contribute a quota towards the United Nations "police force" when it is organized.

Up to this point the problem of defence
is relatively simple, whether it is regarded as the concern of the Commonwealth nations standing together as a unit in defence of their common interests, or as separate nations. But to those who look beyond the present immediacies and slogans, the problem of defence in Australia and South Africa
differs substantially from the problem in Canada. It is only necessary, however, to mention India to reveal a facet of the difficulty which should dispel the feeling of rectitude which is apt to prevail on the subject of "aggression."

OBJECTIVITY

THERE IS NO SECRET ABOUT THE
object of Ralph Ingersoll's book entitled
"Top Secret." It is written by a consummate salesman who knows his market. The object is sales not education; sensation not analysis.
As an old song puts it: "It ain't exactly wot
'e says it's the nasty way 'e says it." Canadians who fought the bloody battles around Caen and who "simply moved along the coast of France" afterwards, have already told the story of what that battle and the subsequent movement meant. They will be astonished to hear that it was not even
"a successful sacrifice play" but a "defeat
from which British arms on the continent never recovered." Successful covering of a break-through by holding the flank at all costs may not be as spectacular as the break-through itself; yet it played no small part in the strategy of the war from the landings in France to the victorious conclusion.

Apparently the author wants to impress
the American public with his judgment that Lieut.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley should have stood in the shoes of General Eisenhower,
and that he himself should have taken the place of both Roosevelt and Churchill. It would have been better to filch the title of that really humorous book "With Malice Aforethought" than to use such a nebulous
title as "Top Secret"—which indicates a defective story and not a history. Anybody who has read the diary of General Eisenhower's public relations officer, which was published without perusal by but with the permission of "Ike," could have distorted the facts and wracked the truth to produce a book which the distinguished critic of the New York Herald Tribune describes as
"violent, and exciting, prejudiced and revealing." Revealing presumably the frailty of the author and the untrustworthiness of his deductions.

BRITAIN PLANS FOR TOURISTS

ACCORDING TO THE UNITED KINGdom Information Service, Britain, in the midst of reconversion, is planning a tourist industry which it hopes will bring to the British Isles three times as many non-Commonwealth visitors as flocked there for the Coronation year of 1937. On the basis of estimates, 403,154 tourists from alien lands in that year spent $35,000,000. The traffic in the present campaign will not be encouraged, however, before 1947.

That does not in any way prejudice the preparations for the drive. Already special inducements have been extended to service
personnel, men and women from distant
countries, to renew acquaintances in Britain
and to bring their friends with them.

Moreover, the most competent writers are being brought into play in a magazine campaign to present in delightful form the many attractions of the countryside. Indicative of the artistry with which the work
is done is Beverley Nichols' story of "England in Maytime" reproduced in the publication of recent origin "Holidays." As descriptive writing, the article is of the highest calibre. It reaches back into Elizabethan days to recall the charm of Oxford, "the city
of dreaming spires," touches on the "English Riviera" that is Devon and Cornwall, brings voice to the singing folk of Wales, reproduces the Lake Country of Wordsworth, describes the Yorkshire moors of the Brontës, the dapple of Derby Day at Epsom
Downs, the May dances of the rural communities and, finally, the excitement that is
and will be forever London.

It is the type of publicity which authorities in this tourist-conscious part of the world might well study, with a view to securing similar production from the Hutchisons and other outstanding Canadian writers.

Another nice thing about keeping money
in the bank; you don't go back for it and die when the house burns.

You can tell people who bathe every day.
They don't realize it is tactless to go calling
Saturday night.

If you yearn for money and can't get
it, there is only one way out. Learn philosophy and regard the stuff as filthy, lucre.

Bruce Hutchison NEW NATIONAL STATISTICS

THE TROUBLE with our thinking about
the world's present famine, as about so many other things, is that we have largely reduced it to statistics when we should be thinking of human beings. Now, human beings are not statistics. They are not figures in a ledger and calculations to be set down in a budget. They have passions
and appetites of the body and, more important in the long run, they have passions and appetites of the mind. These, though the body may be frail at the moment, unarmed and impotent, will finally affect our own lives here in North America in the most surprising and dangerous fashion.

In the complex modern world any great political problem like famine must be considered partly in terms of figures if it is to be solved. Hence governments reckon up how many people must be fed, how many calories of food they can survive on and,
with a godlike impartiality, how many
must be condemned to death by starvation.

THUS PRESENTLY we are all thinking of the famine in statistical terms and the real thing, the hungry human being,
the creature of our own form, with his
empty stomach and his desperate mind,
fades out into a mere abstraction, a dull
and useless mathematical dispute which we gladly hand over to the experts and go
about our business.

We can always be moved by a spectacle
of human suffering if we can see it, if it
affects some human being close at hand,
but the larger it is the less we feel it until,
when it affects millions remote from us,
we can hardly feel it at all. We can only think about it intellectually.

BUT THIS PROBLEM will not be solved intellectually. It will only be solved by an intimate and burning sense of urgency
in the hearts of people like us who have food to spare. It will only be solved by our inward sense of pity, of charity and of shame which compels political action
through government. The opposite process,
the attempt of government to create feelings in us, has never worked. If any solution of this problem or any great problem
is to come at all, it will come out of us,
not out of government, which only reflects
our humor and will.

If we could see the famine, if we could see our own children hungry, we would not bother with the statistics, the mathematical calculations and all the cunning disputes,
rumors and conflicting reports that are designed to persuade us that the famine isn't as bad as we supposed. We would see the thing itself, beyond statistics and beyond
imagining, and we would share our food
with the hungry.

THE PROBLEM of politics really is to make this picture clear to us and the politicians are doing a pretty poor job of
it. Instead of presenting it to us as they ably presented the challenge and the dangers of the war, they are spinning their fine cobwebs of logic, they are disputing
about acreages of wheat, quotas of bacon
and the planning of Canadian agriculture
for the future which, if we are not careful,
will never occur. All these are important matters, no doubt, but they finally blot out
in weary debate, in a fog of detail, the only important fact, that the world is starving while we grow fat.

Human history has seldom seen a spectacle like this—a sea of hunger and in it
an island of people like us who are chiefly worrying about the butter ration and the price of liquor and the scarcity of automobiles. Observe our little island. It looks secure. It lives well. It is powerful and has a comfortable stockpile of atomic bombs
in case of trouble. But let us not fool ourselves. The waters are rising everywhere.

WHILE WE PREACH democracy and freedom, while we proclaim our charters and announce our liberties, the great gaunt mass of humanity answers us in a single and a terrible voice. It asks for food. And food it will finally get, either by our system or by some other.

There is the sovereign political issue
of our time and it can first isolate and then engulf our happy island. For if our system fails the world today, if it leaves
the world to starve while we grow fat, then
the world will turn from it and reject it
as a monstrous fraud and hypocrisy.

The other system promises no freedom,
it asks the surrender of the mind in return
for the nourishment of the body, but hungry men have no choice. They will not listen to argument, they will not read Mr.
Gardiner's speeches in Hansard, they will not wait long for the blessings of democracy. They must eat now, their children must be fed today.

IF WE OFFER them no alternative they will certainly turn to the system which,
however oppressive and ruthless, promises
them a chance to eat and live. The other system does not have to fight for possession of such people. They will fall into its lap
if our system seems to offer them no hope.

Though this may be no fair test, our system will be judged not in abstract theory,
nor in long term results, but only as it helps these people in the primary human business of survival today. The hungry
people are watching us now, they are listening to all our vows and protestations, and
in their broken houses and dank basements
they are making up their minds about democracy with the cold clarity which comes from empty bellies. If we fail them now,
if we give them doctrines instead of food,
we need not be surprised, we cannot complain when the tide of humanity wells up
in due time against our island.

A Hitch Or Two In Radio

By CHESTER A. BLOOM

IT IS LIKELY to be quite a long time before Canadian radio
fans will be served by either television or frequency modulation
broadcasts.

Television is a long time in the future. Frequency modulation service is possible now but will require a huge expenditure in remodeling and perfecting wire
circuits.

No plans have been made to bring television to Canada.
CBC officials say the extremely short radio waves employed in television do not follow the curvature of the earth as do radio
waves in the broadcasting band.

This means that television programs have to either be carried to the broadcasting stations by a coaxial cable, an enormously
expensive affair, or by a series
of towers, each erected at the horizontal limit from the sending station.

TELEVISION broadcasting stations will be in operation this year at New York City. But even
at such a relatively short distance,
geographically speaking, as Montréal, television waves cannot reach that point. This is well to remember in purchasing new sets equipped for television.

Frequency modulation broadcasting is in a different category
so far as its development is concerned. There is a frequency modulation station now operating in Montreal by the Marconi
people on an experimental scale.
CBC is also experimenting with
a 100-watt frequency modulation
transmitter and soon expects to extend the experiments with a 250-watt sending apparatus.

FREQUENCY modulation, it is claimed, is especially adapted for transmitting most delicate variations in tone. Wide ranges of tone is another chief merit. It is also claimed to eliminate all

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Affairs
Writer

Come Thursday and one of the most momentous of the Allied postwar conferences will get
under way in Paris—the meeting
of the Big Four Foreign Ministers: Bevin of Britain, Byrnes of the U.S., Molotov of Russia, and Baldout of France.

It isn't going too far to say
the fate of our United Nations
peace organization may turn on this meeting. Certainly the future of U.N. is deeply concerned.

This parley in Luxembourg
Palace is concerned with drawing up the terms of the peace
treaties with Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland. Its importance lies in the fact that the realignment of the Anglo-Russian spheres of influence is heavily involved in these pacts,
especially the Italian treaty.

In short, the conference is likely to provide a showdown between Moscow and London in the manoeuvring for strategic positions.

An outstanding issue is the great Mediterranean area, which
not only is a vital link in Britain's lifeline to the imperial connections in the Far East, but is one of the chief bulwarks of Britain's influence in Europe.
North Africa and the Middle East. Mighty Russia has made it known in no uncertain terms
that she intends to gain a place
in the Mediterranean sun.

PREVIOUS DEADLOCK
So the Soviet Union's challenge
to British influence is the paramount problem at this writing.
You can gauge its importance by recalling that the conference of the Big Five Foreign Ministers (United States, Britain, Russia, France and China) in London
last autumn blew up over these same treaties.

We get the discomforting news
from Paris that the conference
will be held in secrecy.

Naturally the result of the scheme of withholding the news
is that there is a heavy crop of rumors, speculation and untruths. This secrecy defeats its own purpose, which is to protect
a conference and to prevent agitation among the publics of the countries concerned.

One thing we do know in advance. There will have to be some vigorous horse-trading if the conference is to succeed. To use more diplomatic language,
there must be concessions.

static or other station interference.

But to accomplish this, frequency modulation network
transmission has to have virtually perfect wire circuits for connecting broadcasting stations.
These circuits do not yet exist in Canada. To adapt Canadian wire circuits for frequency modulation transmission would require
extensive rebuilding of wire lines
and repeater equipment which is
out of the question for some time
to come.

THERE is one curious phase to frequency modulation which
may also be a subject of future
contention between government
owned CBC and private radio stations in Canada.

CBC officials say that one factor in Canada which will always be a safeguard against a Canadian government monopoly of radio broadcasting is that with modern receiving sets, no Canadian is compelled to confine his listening to Canadian programs.
There are few places in Canada
where American stations cannot be tuned in.

But against this thesis, private station owners in Canada say
that with the advent of frequency
modulation, Canadian listeners,
in the main, would be compelled
to listen to Canadian programs.
That, they say, is because frequency modulation stations in the United States would have very little if any coverage in Canada

except in parts of Ontario.

SOME of the private station
owners allege the CBC is trying to encourage frequency modulation operation by private broadcasters. If this is successful, they say, the CBC would have a complete monopoly of radio in Canada.

mended to the City Council, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman of the parks committee, said today.

Ald. McTavish, together with Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the town planning committee; Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the health committee; and W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, inspected the beaches last week to see if requests from the Local Council of Women for better access, more water taps, and more toilet facilities should be met.

It was also decided, Ald. McTavish said, that the installation of another toilet would be recommended near the end of Cook Street.

He said the committee felt that the four stairways and several paths leading down to the beaches were sufficient although repairs are needed to some of the paths, particularly those leading to Horseshoe Bay and this will be recommended.

Son of Princess Royal Here On Way to California

Nephew of King George VI, a tall, fair young man walked from the Vancouver boat to the Empress Hotel, Monday, scarcely noticed in the big crowd of Easter vacationists at the dock-side.

He was 23-year-old Viscount Lascelles, son of the Earl of Harewood and the Princess Royal. For the last six months he has been living in Ottawa as an aide-de-camp to the Governor-General. When he completes his three-day stay in Victoria he will go to California for a short visit returning to Vancouver on his way to England.

Viscount Lascelles said he was still a member of the Grenadier Guards with which he saw service during the war. He expected to receive his discharge after his return to England.

He said he had made no decision as to what he would do in peacetime. Questioned about his interests he said they were the same as those "of everyone else" and that he followed no special pursuit.

Viscount Lascelles described his present trip as "simply a holiday." He said he would have only a few days in California but considered this better than not visiting the coast at all while on this continent.

At Banff he made a three-day stop, which he had enjoyed especially. Asked about skiing there, he said he had not tried it out remarking that he "skied very badly."

Viscount Lascelles was reticent about the year he spent in a German prison camp. With him were a son of India's viceroy, the Marquis of Linlithgow; a nephew of the U.S. ambassador, John D. Winant; and a group of Polish generals.

"We were a circus of hostages," he said.

He was accompanied by Maj. Geoffrey Eastwood, controller at Government House in Ottawa.

her. Then, presto, his infatuation vanishes into thin air. He knows he doesn't love the woman he has taken for his wife. The fetters of matrimony chafe him at every move. Home is a jail and his every longing is for freedom.

If he is of the butterfly type, he simply flies the coop. But if he is of the stuff of which martyrs are made, he braces himself up and pays the penalty of his mistake by doing his duty as a husband and father. If he is modern he demands a divorce, or if he is of the old school he becomes a philanderer who is never true to his wife.

In any case what can the poor wife do? How can there be any justice for her? She can't make him love her or want her. She can chain his body to her but not his spirit. Nothing she can do will turn him into a devoted husband.

I think that the wisest thing that a woman can do who has a husband who wants to be free of her is just to be a good sport and let him go.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a pleasure-seeking girl and love to go out and have fun, but my mother won't let me go unless she knows the life history of the boys I go with. The result of this is that I have very few dates. I will go crazy if something doesn't happen. Please tell me what to do. MISERABLE.

Answer: My advice to you is to listen to your mother and obey her. She is trying to protect you from your own folly. No mother should let her daughter go out with boys unless she knows all about them. And certainly she should know where her daughter goes.

Of course, you want to have a good time and you are entitled to just as much innocent pleasure as you can get, but let it be the right sort of fun and the kind that won't leave you sick and sorry with shame for having done things that you will spend your life regretting.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 14. Have been in love with a boy for a long time, but lately he seems to shun me. I guess you think I am young to think of such things, but I am sort of old for my age. My fire of hope is almost extinguished. Please tell me what is best to do. TINY.

Well, Tiny, my advice to you is to study and read and improve your mind. Learn to play all sorts of games and to sew. Decide on what career you mean to follow and begin fitting yourself for that. Join the Girl Guides. The world is so full of a number of things besides boys that no girl of 14 need worry about what a 16-year-old boy thinks of her.

HUSBAND'S LOVE DIMS

Dear Miss Dix: My brother has been married for three years and is bored to death with domestic life and wants his freedom. He says that he has no fault to find with his wife and that she is everything that a wife should be, but he craves his freedom above everything else.

His wife loves him and is heart-broken. There must be some justice for the woman. Have you any suggestion?

A SISTER.

Answer: There is no justice in affairs of the heart. There can be none in the very nature of things because we cannot control our emotions. We cannot revive love when it is dead. We cannot infuse a thrill into a situation out of which it has evaporated. We cannot of our will create an appetite for that for which we have lost our taste.

Always the innocent must suffer, and the tragedy of it is that there is nothing that can be done about it. Nobody can help it. And so often nobody is really to blame. It just happens.

ARDOR VANISHES

Such seems to be the case of your brother. No doubt when he married his wife he thought he was very much in love with

Rainers Sell First Baseman to Padres

SA N DIEGO, CALIF. (AP) — Purchase of George Macdonald, Seattle Rainier first baseman, by the San Diego Padres, was announced Monday by Padre president Bill Starr, who also revealed two other developments.

One was the unconditional release of Vallie Eaves, big Indian pitcher, who recently was suspended from the club because of violation of training rules, and the other was the return of Ed Ignasiak, first baseman, to Toledo, from what he had been relieved on option.

Eaves was fined $50 in municipal court Monday on charges of setting fire to a bed in his hotel room. Eaves, who pleaded guilty to violation of the health and safety code, testified that he fell asleep while smoking in bed.

WEAR AND WATER pressure would soon render your garden hose completely useless if the rubber were not reinforced with rugged tightly-woven cotton fabric.

This is just one example from thousands to show how the cotton fabrics produced by Dominion Textile workers serve Canada's peace-time needs. You walk on cotton in the linings of your shoes and rubbers, and in the backing of your carpets. You sleep on cotton in sheets, pillow cases, pajamas and mattress coverings. You ride on cotton in your auto tires. You dress in cotton in your shirts, coat linings, dresses, underwear.

It is a good thing for Canada that these textile goods so widely needed are made in this country by our own Canadian industry. We do not have to depend upon imports from foreign sources for these essentials of daily living.

Dominion Textile workers are now busy turning out the many things that are so badly needed for our peacetime living. As long as the present tremendous demands and relative shortages exist, we shall go on distributing our production on a quota basis, playing no favourites.

NEVER before in the illustrious history of the Kentucky Derby has one stable stood so good an opportunity of winning as does—of this writing—the Maine Chance Farm of Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, better known to lady readers of this column as Elizabeth Arden who compounds, packages and sells, in large quantities, a line of cosmetics.

It is not the custom of the betting commissioners, who make the winter books to quote future odds on an entry but if they did it is safe to say the Maine Chance team headed by Lord Boswell, Knockdown, Star Pilot et al would be heavily odds-on, which would be another Kentucky Derby record. As is it, single horses from the stable are being quoted as short as 4 to 1 against Lord Boswell and 5 to 1 against Knockdown and Star Pilot—this with the race a month away, a month containing all the hazards to which a thoroughbred's fragile legs and complex constitution are susceptible.

However, there are other horses in the race, some, in fact, who have on occasion beaten Mrs. Graham's million-dollar outfit and they must all be conceded a chance. Spy Song, Marine Victory and Air Rate have all shown their heels to the field but just now with their one-two running in the Santa Anita Derby and their continued good training it would be a rash forecaster who publicly said that anything but the three string-leaders of Maine Chance could be considered solid choices for the race of the roses.

Canadians will have an interest in the race this year with the entry of Wee Admiral, but his second to Round View in the Flamingo Stakes and his somewhat hollow victory over Billy Bumps indicate that interest will only centre in how far down the field he finishes. A close-coupled son of War Admiral, the Canadian-owned colt is on the small side but has given evidence he can pack weight and cover a distance. It seems, however, that he just won't be fast enough at Kentucky.

One horse that this casual student of such matters considers has been kept under cover for some good reason is Count Speed, brother of the 1943 winner, Count Fleet. He showed dazzling speed as a two-year-old, won more of his races than he lost and then was injured. He has been reported as fully recovered and training exceptionally well. He may be seen in one of the Derby trials before the actual race and until then it would be wise to make no definite selection.

Spy Song, a picture horse whose conformation would win him ribbons in any prize ring, is the hottest tip on the market just at present. Beaten only once in four starts as a juvenile this handsome son of Balladier-Meta Hari by Peter Hastings, came out covered with glory on that occasion since it was seen after the race that he had, while in the starting gate, suffered a deep cut on the tendon. He ran on gallantly to finish fifth.

An odds-on favorite in all of his starts he won the four of them with ease and beat the best of them by from five to 12 lengths. On form alone it is hard to put him out of the picture but there remains the question of whether or not he has fully recovered from his injury, in spite of some sparkling morning works, and that overwhelming mathematical superiority held by Main Chance to be contended with.

Early in January the San Felipe handicap at Santa Anita brought out another top-flight candidate for 3-year-old honors, not Galla Darnon who won, doing the six furlongs in 1:10 1/5, but Hampden who ran brilliantly but came out of the race with an injured leg. Hampden, the other day demonstrated his recovery by winning a dash at Jamaica by something like 10 lengths.

Any of these colts could win at Churchill Downs next month and there is always the chance of a late-blooming flower cropping up. Take, for example, such colts as Mist o' Gold, Pellicle, Gay Moonbeam, etc.—on second thoughts, you take 'em. I don't want any part of any Derby candidate but Spy Song, Count Speed or the Maine Chance multitude.

Stampeders Win Third Straight From Hamilton

CALGARY (CP)—Hamilton's "shabby cats" have definitely come to life in Canada's 1946 Allan Cup playoff but it's an awakening that finds them three games down to Calgary's powerful Stampeders, a margin conceded too great to overcome.

The chips were down for the Tigers, champions of the east, as they entrained today for Saskatoon for the fourth game of the best-of-seven series, and which may well be the finale. For despite Hamilton's show of fight, back-checking and playmaking for the first time in the series last night, Stampeders were worth their 4 to 3 victory which gave them the three-game edge.

Humbled 6 to 2 in the first game and 6 to 1 in the second, when they failed to show much more than their "lucky" unwashed uniforms, Tigers were a different club last night as they fought Stampeders with their own kind of back-checking game. But the Calgary weight, finish and defence proved enough to earn them by the margin of a single third-period tally.

There were no standout stars on either club last night as Johnny Conick knocked in a first-period goal for Hamilton and Doug Cairns and Bob Brownridge came back fast with two for the west, Bobby Liscombe and Clarence Shillington sank two more eastern goals in the second period to give Tigers a lead that looked like something until Red Hunter whipped in a set-up by Dunc Grant late in the second.

Hunter, whose three goals were a big factor in Calgary's 6 to 1 victory here, was the boy who fed Archie Wilder the third period pass that produced the game-winning goal for the west. Art Childs' work in the Tiger net was a big improvement over his previous showings but he didn't have time to recover from one save before Wilder had whipped the game-winner between his legs.

Hamilton's fight, their improved passing, their hard back-checking—things western fans had heard about the Tiger club but never saw up to now—caused some eyebrow lifting among the hockey followers who had predicted a four-straight Allan Cup victory for the smooth, heavy western club.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Hamilton, Conick (Runions, Shillington), 9:08, 2, Calgary, Cairns (Fisher), 13:00, 3, Calgary, Brownridge (Grant), 15:43. Penalties: Fisher, Shillington.
Second period—4, Hamilton, Liscombe (Mason), 14:54; 5, Hamilton, Shillington (Runions, Conick), 15:15; 6, Calgary, Hunter (Grant), 17:38. Penalties: Dinning, Fisher, Robertson, Michalak, Slobodan.
Third period—7, Calgary, Wilder (Hunter), 12:20. Penalties: Sawchuk, Liscombe, Slobodan.

Todd's Shooting Highlights Meet

Highlighted by the splendid marksmanship of Ernie Todd which gained for him possession of the gold medal he himself donated earlier in the year for most consistency in smashing clay targets, the Victoria Gun Club held a successful shoot Sunday at the Albert Head Road grounds.

A substantially increased supply of ammunition resulted in 5,000 targets being pulled during the afternoon. In addition to shooters there was quite a number of people in the "gallery" watching the experts with the scatterguns.

Todd shattered 40 targets without a miss to go to the top in the consistency bracket. He shot of all broke 25 out of 25 and the next time up smashed 15 before having a miss chalked against him. However, in the 50 shots at the clay he only missed two birds on the 16-yard trap range. Prior to Todd's Sunday mark Nanaimo Gun Club's Jack Behan held the Todd Medal with a 38.

DOUBLES EVENT
High scores at doubles were made by Clarke Atchison and H. Pottinger. In the skeet picture, Dr. A. D. Bechtel and Harry Buckle wound up in a top place sawoff with 23s, while Ted Bailey was runner-up with 22. Wallace H. McMillan, who is well-known bound this week to seek trout in Little River, and Ollie Corbett won the "backer-up" event.

Secretary Clarence Goeppel reports the club is installing an other trap and making additions to the club house. "This will give us three regular traps and two skeet layouts" and he visualizes the club in the not too-distant future as being the finest on the Pacific Coast.

SOCCER WORKOUT
Canadian Legion footballers will train at Macdonald Park tonight at 7.

Island Dog Judged Best in Show

C. W. Lonsdale of Shawnigan Lake, right, is seen accepting the best in show trophy from judge Anton Korbel of Belmont, Calif., at Saturday's all-breed championship show staged by the Victoria City Kennel Club at the Armories. The prize was won by Lonsdale's German shepherd bitch, Judy of Northmere, seen alongside him. The shepherd was also judged the best working in show.

Wismer Plans New Deal For Sportsmen

As soon as Attorney-General Gordon Wismer returns from London, which follows his trip to the Dominion-Provincial Conference in Ottawa, he will make a thorough tour of inspection of British Columbia in order to aid him in implementing new administration of fish and game in the province.

He will visit every spot possible in B.C. and talk with fishermen and hunters. "From information I gain I will try to reorganize the fish and game laws and make a department for the benefit of all," he said.

He expressed the viewpoint that the province's game laws are antiquated and hoped to introduce changes in line with the recent ones he made tightening up on the tourists who were depredating game stocks.

"Outdoor sportsmen represent a large majority of our population. They must be recognized and I fully intend to make a thorough survey of the situation as a whole. As for feeding ducks, if B.C. sportsmen are convinced this is the right thing to do, I am confident the federal government will yield to my request to do so," he said.

The Attorney-General added that he felt "we should earmark the license fees for the sport itself and I think the government will be agreeable. I also feel the sportsmen would like their own council representing each zone. This would ensure popular administration in B.C."

San Diego Moves Into Select Group

Pepper Martin's collection of cast-offs and young hopefuls from the armed services doing business as the San Diego Padres today circulated in the first division high society of Pacific Coast League baseball.

The unpredictables popped up from the lower ranks Monday on the five-hit pitching of San Diego's native son, Al Olsen, to shut out seventh-ranking Seattle, 7 to 0.

Climbing into fourth place, the Padres shoved aside the Hollywood Stars, who were blanked, 6 to 0, by the pennant-defending

Lanier Proving Ace Of St. Louis Staff

Max Lanier, a perennial runner-up, is fast becoming the ace of St. Louis Cardinals' all-star pitching staff after years of playing second fiddle to such big names as Mort Cooper, Lon Warneke and Curt Davis.

The lefthander's first out was a shutout over Pittsburgh on the second day of the season, and yesterday he turned back Cincinnati 4 to 1, with six hits.

Despite Lanier's chucking and the Cards' fifth straight triumph, they were unable to shake off the persistent Brooklyn Dodgers who likewise ran their streak to five by shading Boston 3 to 4 in 10 innings.

Pete Reiser's second double of the day for Dodgers drove in the two tying runs in the ninth, and Billy Herman belted a single to break it up in the 10th.

New York Giants resumed relations with the Phillies and got back on the winning side 7 to 6, coming from behind to tie St. Louis Tommy Hughes, and blasting Fireman Hugh Mulcahy for the winning margin.

TROUT HURLS WELL

Detroit found reason to rejoice in the excellent debut of Paul (Dizzy) Trout, who blanked Chicago White Sox 4 to 0 with six blows. The dizzy one was troubled by an aching back last summer, but showed no traces of any ailment in handcutting the Pale Hose.

Floyd Bevens made his first start a winning one in hurling New York Yankees to a 2 to 1 "squeaker" over Philadelphia's Luther Knerr. Joe Dimaggio tied the game with a triple in the sixth, and scored the winning run on Charley Keller's single a few moments later.

Shortstop Eddie Pellagrini, who got his chance to play when Johnny Pesky was hit by a pitched ball in an early inning, won the game for Boston over Washington 5 to 4, with a seventh-inning homer.

Although Chicago and Pittsburgh in the National, and Cleveland and St. Louis in the American, were not scheduled, the total attendance for the first complete week of play soared to 1,008,442 with the help of amazing Monday turnouts of 24,902 at Brooklyn, and 23,407 at the Yankee Stadium.

Bolstered Canucks Turn Back Boston

VANCOUVER (CP)—Playing with the chips down, Vancouver Canucks Monday night battled to a 5 to 3 victory over Boston Olympics in the fifth game of their best-of-seven series for the United States amateur hockey championship. The teams met in the sixth game Wednesday night with the Olympics leading the series, 3 to 2.

The game led off at a blistering clip but turned into a stiff body-checking affair after the opening frame as Vancouver, aided by replacements Walter Dorohoy and Willie Schmidt, played a stirring backchecking style to protect an early lead.

Schmidt contributed a second-period goal to the Vancouver cause, while other tallies were scored by Andy Clovechuk, Bernie Bathgate, Jock Smith and Bill Carse.

Clarence Marquess topped the scoring column for Boston with a pair of goals, while Joe Schertzel netted the other.

DUBLIN, Elre (Reuter)—Mrs. L. Lillingston's Golden View II Monday won the Irish Grand National at Fairyhouse, near Dublin, from Mrs. K. Coonan's Klaxon, with African Collection, owned by Miss Eve Shortiss, third.

Golden View was 7 to 1, Klaxon 100 to 6 and African Collection 7 to 1.

PRINCESS RECEIVED VISITS FROM GERMAN COUSINS

A hundred and seventeen years ago, Kensington Palace in London was the home of a 10-year-old child named Alexandrina Victoria. This child was simply "Victoria." This child was granddaughter of a king, but her father never held the throne. The father, duke, died when his daughter was only eight months old.

At first, few persons thought it likely that this child ever would become queen. King George III was the father of 13 children. When these sons and daughters grew up, however, they either had small families of their own, or none at all.

If a single prince had appeared among the grandchildren and had lived to manhood, the chances of Victoria holding the throne would have been small. As it turned out, she became "heir to the throne" because the male line ran out.

From time to time, relatives of Victoria came to the palace for visits. Several of these relatives were cousins from Germany. At the age of 13, Victoria started keeping a diary. In it she told about the visits of her German cousins. One day she wrote:

Victoria learned that she was to rule Great Britain

"Ernest... has dark hair and fine dark eyebrows... Albert is just as tall as Ernest, and is extremely handsome; his hair is about the same color as mine; his eyes are large and blue, and he has a beautiful nose and a very sweet mouth with fine teeth..."

As we shall see in a later story, this visit of Albert was to be of some importance. The princess went on to describe him as having a face "full of goodness and sweetness, and very clever."

Two of Victoria's uncles held the British throne. One of these ruled as George IV, the other as William IV. Another uncle (her mother's brother) became king of Belgium.

King William died soon after taking office, and this meant that Victoria was to be queen. The lord chamberlain and another high official hurried to Kensington Palace to tell her the news. Awakened at 5 o'clock in the morning, Victoria learned that she was to rule Great Britain. At this time she was only 17 years old.

Teachers Pleased At Cameron Report As Worked Out

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Teachers' Federation hopes the new system of school inspection, resulting from the provincial government's implementation of the Cameron report, will so alter the present situation that the federation will not be in the position of having to defend an inefficient teacher.

This observation was made by C. B. Gillie, president of the federation, in his annual report at the opening session of the annual meeting, now in progress here. Mr. Gillie expressed the federation's gratitude to Dr. M. A. Cameron of the University of British Columbia for his report to the provincial government on the educational structure of the province. "In general Dr. Cameron's report so fitted our desires that we felt we could waive for the moment our disagreements on some of its details," he said.

He stated no action had been taken on the questions of automatic or compulsory membership and on teachers' rights to hold office in municipal councils and school boards. These would be taken up next year.

CHIEF PLANS ACCEPTED

The annual report of the executive committee, presented by C. D. Ovens, general secretary, stated the federation's main submissions to the government had been accepted in the Cameron report.

These included the creation of a system of larger administrative units; the retention of local control of education through elected school boards; the paying of salary grants on the schedule basis; the establishment of a basic minimum program of education in all its phases and the necessity for more equalization in educational tax structures.

Education Minister Weir told the federation never in the history of any province in Canada had a record in financial votes for education been shown, on a per capita basis, comparable to those of the last session of the British Columbia Legislature. "This was made possible," Dr. Weir said, "because this year the Department of Education fortunately was given right-of-way over all other government departments. In other words, the largest increase in government aid to any department was granted to the Department of Education."

Prime Ministers Of Commonwealth Start Conferences

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON (CP) — The Commonwealth Prime Ministers' meeting began today at 10 Downing Street, residence of Prime Minister Attlee, with Foreign Secretary Bevin and the chiefs of staff present, indicating an immediate start of foreign affairs and world security discussions.

Mr. Bevin, who will fly to Paris Thursday for the Foreign Ministers' conference, before his departure, wanted to talk on international affairs with Prime Minister Churchill of Australia, and Dr. H. V. Evatt, Australian Minister of External Affairs, and Walter Nash, who is representing New Zealand at the conference.

This is the first in a series of consultations with the Dominions in relation to the four-power deliberations on European peace treaties. It was learned that Mr. Bevin's reports to the British government will be made immediately available to the Dominion Prime Ministers here and their comments will be relayed promptly to the Paris meeting.

SUBJECTS FOR TREATIES

The hope is that any draft treaties resulting from the Foreign Ministers' deliberations will incorporate as well as possible the views not only of the United Kingdom, but also of all the Dominions.

Only Australia and New Zealand were represented at today's conference. Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa is scheduled to arrive later in the week, and Prime Minister King of Canada is to come, but a date has not yet been set for his arrival. The talks are to continue at least for three weeks, with "matters pertaining to the Pacific" announced as the principal business.

It is not expected formal decisions will be reached at the meetings, which are primarily for an exchange of views among the Commonwealth countries.

The presence of the military men indicates, however, that the closest study will be made of Commonwealth defence requirements in both their military and political aspects.

The Canadian Pensioners Association will meet Friday night at 7:30.

The "baby" of B.C.'s 10-man cabinet, affable Works Minister E. C. "Ernie" Carson, 51, today for the first time sat in the driver's seat of the B.C. government, holding in his hands the reins of at least five portfolios, including the two most important posts in the provincial government.

Mr. Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry, and Minister of Mines in the Coalition government since 1941, and less than two weeks ago appointed Minister of Public Works, returned to Victoria today after an absence of 10 days. He immediately moved into his new office, formerly occupied by Hon. Herbert Anscomb, now Minister of Finance.

Open-Air Swimming Pool Out

Mayor Percy George said today that inquiries on the costs and operation of installing an open-air swimming pool in Victoria had shown they would probably be prohibitively high, and he doubted if any move to have one established here would be made in the immediate future.

He received a letter today from Plymouth, Eng., where he sent an inquiry about the large pool operated there. The reply stated that the pool had been operated since 1935, and that while the water is not filtered it is chlorinated to kill all contamination. It is semi-circular with a diameter of 18 feet, and varies in depth from two to nine feet.

Mayor George was advised by the pool's engineer against constructing any pool in tidal water exposed to wave action, pointing out that the Plymouth pool is protected by breakwater, and that other English pools are similarly protected. He also advised that all equipment be kept well above the high water mark.

Mayor George said that it was questionable if the amount of warm weather here would be sufficient to bring out large enough crowds to pay for the maintenance of such a pool.

Plan to Lower Level Of Lake to Get Marl

A private enterprise is prepared to lower the level of Cheam Lake by 25 feet to give access to the huge marl deposits there which would provide B.C. farmers with a substitute for much needed lime.

J. L. Davidson, New Westminster engineer, has asked the provincial government to approve a plan to cut a channel from Cheam Lake, northeast of Rosedale Station on the Canadian National Railway, to drain into the Fraser River half a mile away.

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam, Lands and Forest Minister E. T. Kenney and Water Comptroller Ernest Davis will visit the site of the marl deposit, one of the largest in Canada.

If developed the deposits would provide a huge tonnage to British Columbia's farmers, and would largely replace the lime used at present. It is estimated Fraser Valley farmers are now using 6,000 to 7,000 tons of lime annually and would, if it were available, use up to 50,000 tons annually to sweeten the soil of the rich valley.

"Anything which will provide the Fraser Valley farmers with plentiful supply of marl would have my support," said Mr. Putnam.

U.S. military sources previously had declared there were no American-owned planes in the area at the time.

The officer making the report recommended the Chinese aircraft operating from Mukden, which were obtained from the U.S., be plainly and permanently marked with Chinese national air force identification.

OUR YOUNG FRIENDS-
OF COURSE WE KNOW that they do not expect to find everything they have planned for, in any merchant's stock, right at this time. They know that excursions they know that buying in difficult, clothes are hard to find apartments and homes are hard to find even if you are a compromiser. So in their first purchase of furniture we are trying to help in selecting that
"ONE GOOD PIECE"
... they all seem to want. We know they will have to live with their choice
field suite for 37c. and we don't want the blame to be on us. So we try and prevent them making a mistake. A lovely, inviting, and the dream of
a boy just out of uniform, and a girl
that first dream home. If we wait will be our customer's later when their chandise begins to flow again.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES ARE Figaro the Kitten and Cleo the glamorous goldfish featured in Walt Disney's "The Wonderful Adventures of Pinocchio," feature length production in technicolor, released by RKO radio, and now at the Dominion.

Wood Carver's Shop Highlights Film

The average moviegoer would have to attend Walt Disney's full-length technicolor picture, "Pinocchio," now at the Dominion Theatre, at least five times to even begin to notice all of the unique toys, clocks, music boxes, furniture, pipes and candle holders seen in the shop of Geppetto, the wood carver, one of the main characters.

There are teapots made to resemble fat elephants, with the spout as the elephant trunk and the lid fashioned into a turbaned rider. Other pitchers look like old-fashioned little girls in poke bonnets. There are jugs resembling plump open-mouthed frogs.

The star of these "props" is one clock occupied by a lady cuckoo named Hortense. After all the other clocks have struck, Hortense, clad in a colorful bonnet and gown, always comes out of her clock, and "cuckoos" approximately three seconds afterwards.

Communications Restored in Eastern Storm Region

HALIFAX (CP) — Communication lines between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were gradually returning to normal today as linemen restored poles and wires damaged by the unseasonable spring snowstorm that struck the N.S.-N.B. border area early Sunday.

Prince Edward Island, also hard hit by the storm, was still cut off from telegraphic or telephone contact with the mainland, and telegraph company officials said service would not likely be restored to the island until sometime this afternoon. Only link with P.E.I. was by airplane and the Cape Tormentine ferry, as both the airlines and ferry were operating on schedule Monday night.

Damage was most extensive in the flat 60-mile stretch of land between Salisbury, N.B., and Amherst, N.S., where between 80 and 100 telegraph poles were leveled.

Residents of Moncton, N.B., were without natural gas for 36 hours, and many families went without heat in their homes until service was resumed Monday morning. All electric power in the city also was suspended for four hours Monday.

News agency and radio services were affected, and the Canadian press served its member newspapers in Nova Scotia by cable from London and Bermuda until wires were operating again late Monday. C.P. news was flown to Prince Edward Island from Moncton and Halifax.

No injuries were reported as a result of the freak storm that cut out a path just west of the Bay of Fundy and swept across the Isthmus of Chignecto, the narrow strip of land that joins New Brunswick to Nova Scotia. Forecasters at the Dominion public weather office in Halifax said it was not a particularly severe storm, but falling trees and heavy wet snow had combined to play havoc with the wires.

Trains were operating on schedule Monday after some minor delays Sunday, and highways remained open in most sections, except between Amherst and Moncton, where drifts six to seven feet high were reported.

The DOCTOR Says:

SPRING COLDS PRESENT PNEUMONIA DANGER

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Mothers who thought they had seen the last running nose this year have had to get out the remedies again, as colds can develop at any time of the year, from the poles to the equator.

The common cold is an infection of the upper respiratory passages spread from the sick to the well, and it is most prevalent following a drop in outside temperature. Ordinary fluctuations in temperature do not seem to have any effect on colds, but changeable weather always brings out more of them.

Colds, as the name indicates, were once thought to be caused by atmospheric changes, but we now know that they are due to a germ or virus. Those which develop in the spring and summer are among the most distressing.

Stiffness of the nose, sneezing, sore throat and headache are the result of a virus cold. Usually there is no fever. Untreated, a cold lasts about a week.

OTHER GERMS FOLLOW

After the virus cold runs its course, there is a tendency for the nose and throat to be infected by other germs. The second infection lasts two or three weeks, and the nose discharges thick, yellowish material. This stage may be complicated by sinusitis.

The most common spring malady resembling a cold is allergy. Swelling, congestion and watery discharge are also present in an allergic nose, and there is great similarity between the effect of a common cold and an allergic reaction in the nose.

"Rose cold" or "rose fever," is the same condition which later on in the summer is known as hay fever. Allergic reactions in the nose may be present the year around, and then the condition is confused with chronic colds or sinus infections.

CAUTION REQUIRED

Certain respiratory infections are more serious in the spring, and March has always been known as the "pneumonia

Bulb Growers Would Purchase Own Planes

Development of the bulb-growing industry in Greater Victoria through the construction of an airport at Gordon Head was emphasized by A. E. Horner, president of Saanich Ward 1 Ratepayers' Association, Monday, when he announced that a public meeting on the subject of the proposed air base would be held Thursday evening at 8 in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Mr. Horner said that at least three Saanich bulb growers were ready to purchase aircraft and hire pilots to transport flowers to eastern markets as soon as a suitable airport is developed.

Queen, Drill Team At Portland Festival

Close to 60 Victoria girls will represent the city at the Portland rose festival. Headed by Victoria's May Queen and her two attendants, the contingent will include members of the Girls' Drill Team.

Capt. Norman Foster, team director and trainer, said they would leave here June 4 aboard the streamlined ferry Kalakala for Seattle. At Portland luncheons and parties have already been planned for the girls.

The May Queen and her princesses will ride in a special float in the famous floral parade. Marching as a separate unit will be the Girls' Drill Team.

Victoria's May Queen has also been invited to attend a two-day carnival at Nanaimo, June 28 and 29. The program is being arranged by the Canadian Legion.
